A short while later James Golden, of No. 21 West One Hundred and Fifteenth street, Manhattan, was dancing when he slipped and fell. The doctors fear he received internal injuries.

Samuel Bloom, of No. 188 Second street, Brooklyn, stuck a nail into his foot, and was next to be carted off for treatment at the hospital.

What Wanamaker's Offers to Visitors in New York

EW Yorkers have long since learned to look to Wanamaker's for the first hints of the new season's fashions. But the thousands of people who pass through the city daily, on their way back home, may be glad to know about and take away with them some inkling of the new things for Fall that are showing themselves for the first time about the store. Charming new Millinery, for example - a beautiful bevy of purple hats, with daring French color-contrasts, graces a Broadway window-new Waists, a stylish group of new Tailored Suits at temptingly modest prices-these are some of the things worth looking up.

If the housekeeper's interest is aroused by rich Tapestries, Silk Damasks and Armures, for re-upholstering furniture, she will enjoy the showing of advance fabrics on the Fourth floor of the New Building. On the floor above are some choice Rugs-modern and rare antiques. Of course, the Furniture Sale possesses vast attractions, and there are parallel movements in Lamps, Dinner Sets, and other Housefurnishings.

All over the store the wane of Summer is marked by special stock-clearances at low prices.

And the comfort and entertainment of the visitor arc not neglected-a spacious Restaurant, on the Ninth floor of the new building, offers refreshment both delicious and reasonable; the Art Gallery adjoining, and the Auditorium, with the Grand Organ, possess much interest.

Plan to include Wanamaker's in your trips around New York-it is a city show-point, and too important to
